Sewers start in Aug. or Sept.

Dysart et al Reeve, Murray Fearrey told The Echo that it will likely be an August or September start on the second phase of the sewer project for Haliburton Village.

Reeve Fearrey noted that he doubts if the project will get done this fall and a great deal will depend on the weather and how long it stays warm enough.

Tenders have now been called for the construction of three pumping stations, a river crossing structure and gravity sewer with manholes and other appurtenances and private service connections.

Test holes for the project will be done August 3.

Guides are travelling to coast

Sharon Williams and Kelly Roberts, both 14, of Haliburton, will be well on their way to Cape Breton Island by the time you are reading this article. The girls left at 4:30 a.m. this morning for the trip east.

Sharon, the daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Harvey Williams and Kelly, the daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Jack Roberts, are part of a group of five girls from the Woodland Division of the Girl Guides who have the opportunity to go to an international jamboree which starts on the island this week.

The girls, who were selected for the trip in January, left Haliburton this morning by car and were flying from Toronto International Airport to Sidney, Nova Scotia. They would then take a bus to Cape Breton.

Bob Gow and Wally Edwards work in two separate wells and the small pile of stones in the foreground is another small well that have been uncovered all in the same area. The Natural Wells are being cleared as part of a project of the Haliburton Kinsmen Club who plan on improving the area of wells enough to make it possible for tourists to visit the site.

Eakins claims minority Government is working

"Minority government is working very well and the Liberal Party is moving ahead," Victoria-Haliburton MPP John Eakins told a meeting of the Victoria-Haliburton New Liberals at the 910 Motel, Lindsay.

"Things are looking great. They have never looked better," he told the young people. He said the government changed its course on the proposed pop can legislation and a bill to set up the Hart inquiry into environmental matters has been withdrawn and the government will be proceeding instead by order-in-council.

"I think we are going to achieve what we want. It's a time of negotiation between all parties and I'm sure it will be a good long session. I have a great feeling of optimism for Victoria-Haliburton riding."

The MPP said a new industry - Thaler Metal Industries Ltd. - has just decided to locate in Haliburton County "and we are just delighted." He said Haliburton is finally going to get a shot in the arm. Things are happening in Victoria County too, "so we are just going to keep working."

Mr. Eakins said he appreciates the work done by young people of all ages on his behalf in the last election. "I appreciate that the people of the riding confirmed my election in 1975. After the 1975 election the Progressive Conservatives felt my election was more or less some kind of accident. They were sure they were going to get the seat back this time. The people showed their appreciation of the work done by their member."

Mr. Eakins noted that the Liberals are now the official opposition and "things are moving ahead well indeed. Things at Queen's Park are just great. The members are full of enthusiasm. There is great solidarity. Stuart Smith has moved from third party leader to leader of the official opposition. We are just starting to move."

The MPP said he has been appointed official opposition critic for the Ministry of Industry and Tourism and this summer he hopes to travel so that he can learn first-hand the needs of the tourist industry.

Steve D'Agostino of Toronto, President of the Ontario New Liberals, told the meeting that the provincial youth organization is 2,500 strong and is probably the most active youth group in the country at this time, and is bigger than the Liberal party in Manitoba.

Survey planned on recreation

Within the next week a survey questionnaire will be distributed to a number of households in the municipality of Dysart. Selected respondents will be asked questions regarding their current recreation habits and interests.

Flowers of Hope campaign

The Haliburton District Association for the Mentally Retarded was successful in its Flowers of Hope Campaign this year.

In a letter from Bob Heyes it is stated that $3,374.38 has been received so far.

Dr. Heyes said that the success of the fund raising this year is due to the many volunteers who canvassed the communities in the county.

"To these hard workers and to the many generous donors, the association offers its sincere thanks," he said.

The Flowers of Hope money will be used locally to run a workshop and help support the retarded people in Haliburton.

This will provide information for improving existing recreation activities and facilities and providing additional recreational opportunities if the need is expressed.

The survey questionnaire will be delivered to the households. A brief explanation will be given and the respondents will have one week to complete the questionnaire, at which time someone will return to the home to pick up the completed questionnaires.

Each member of the household over the age of 10 will be asked to answer a questionnaire. It will be simple and straight forward and will require only 15 or 20 minutes to complete.

Selected respondents are urged to co-operate and answer the questionnaire. This is your opportunity to express your opinions and make suggestions. Perhaps you feel a greater variety of activities are required or a certain facility is needed in your area. Recreation and leisure is becoming increasingly important in our society. What you say will become part of the overall plan for recreation for the future.

Council will talk to authority

Anson, Hindon and Minden council has invited the proposed Kawartha Conservation Authority officials to attend the next meeting of the municipal council.

In a letter from E.C. Hill, it is stated, "On behalf of the Kawartha Conservation study group I would like to make an appointment convenient to council to attend before your township council with representatives of the Kawartha Conservation study group."

The purpose of the meeting, it said in the letter, "is to first of all inform you as to the proposal to form a conservation authority and, secondly, to discuss with representatives of your council whether or not they feel that the Gal-Burnt River and Irondale watershed should be included in the proposed conservation authority at this time, or whether a separate conservation authority for these areas should be created?"

Bobcaygeon Road and the north side of Parkside Crescent in Minden, to locate senior citizen housing there.

In a letter from John Rhodes, Minister of Housing to Anson, Hindon and Minden council, said that there are still outstanding various approvals on the proposed site including completion of the required soils test.

Mr. Rhodes said, "I have also been informed about the proposed land purchase adjacent to the existing road allowance by the municipality. Approval of that part of the municipal land purchase will be simultaneous with the approval of the property being acquired by the Ministry of Housing."

Mr. Rhodes pointed out that acquisition of the proposed site requires the approval of the board of directors of the Ontario Housing Corp. who he said will be considering the transaction in the near future.

Attendance up at Guild's annual show

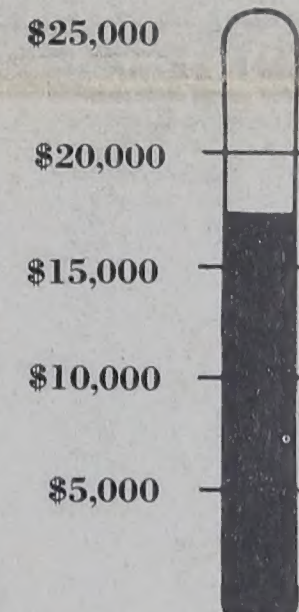

Nila Reynolds

Something good is happening in Haliburton - to the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts. At their opening night, Wednesday, July 6th, both attendance and sales volume far exceeded anything experienced during 14 previous exhibitions. Both continued to amaze as the event progressed. Held in the air-conditioned Senior Elementary School, the juried exhibition was opened by the President of Sir Sandford Fleming Community College (of which the Haliburton School of Fine Arts is an extension division), David Sutherland.

Introducing Mr. Sutherland was Ronald J. Curry, former Chairman of the Board of Sir Sandford, who outlined the development of the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts and the Haliburton School of Fine Arts where so many of the exhibiting artists and craftsmen had taken instruction. He announced the completion of a Guild project begun in 1974, a book about the growth of arts and crafts

The Dysart Community Centre fund has reached a total of $17,435, with its recent donations. The goal for the fund is $25,000. The recent donations include $200 from Totten, Sims and Hubicki, $50 from R.E. Sims and $100 from Ron Curry. Donations may be sent to Box 382, Haliburton.

Two boat mishaps over the weekend

Members of the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police investigated two boating mishaps over the weekend.

An accident on Dark Lake, in the Wilberforce area, resulted in $200 damage to a boat driven by a 15-year-old juvenile and no damage to a boat driven by another 15-year-old juvenile.

There was damage to the boat powered by a 40 horsepower motor while the other boat was powered by a six horsepower motor.

The two boats were involved in a collision.

A boating accident on the channel between Grass and Kashagawigamog Lakes resulted in $150 damage to the two vessels.

Drivers of the boats were John Peel, 34, of Haliburton and Edward Whiteway, 27, also of Haliburton.

The Minden detachment of the OPP report that Peel entered the channel passing to the right of a moored fisherman. Whiteway was leaving the channel and passed to the left of the same fisherman.

Whiteway, who was driving a 12 foot aluminum boat was charged with failing to carry navigation lights. Peel was driving a 16 foot boat powered by a 70 horsepower motor.

Sharon Williams, 14, the daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Harvey Williams of Haliburton, and Kelly Roberts, 14, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Jack Roberts, also of Haliburton, left this morning for Cape Breton Island. The two girls are going to an International Guide Camp as part of a group of five from the Woodland Division which includes Haliburton.

Jim Gregory, General Manager of the Toronto Maple Leafs, and Roger Nielson, the new coach of the National Hockey League club, relax beside the pool at The PineStone Inn. Nielson, vacationing in the area for within the county culminating in the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts and the Haliburton School of Fine Arts.

President Sutherland spoke of his own introduction to the craft scene in a small Ontario town early in his teaching career. Social and community obligations railroaded him into a sketching class of 20 fellow sufferers challenged to reproduce either of the calendars bestowed by the town's banks. His amateur instructor was enthusiastic, the class responded and a good time was had by all; but for two of the group, a young dairy truck driver and a lady whose recently married children left her with "empty nest" syndrome. It was the turning point of their lives! Both discovered they were artists and went on to prove it to the world and "that's what arts and crafts instruction is all about - a chance to realize the full potential of hidden talents."

President Sutherland was thanked by Nila Reynolds, author of the Guild's new book "Dream of Excellence." She presented him with a complimentary copy and quoted the late Leslie M. Frost "To remember the old is to add strength and background to the new." This is the intent of the book, produced through years of unflagging interest on the part of the Guild's directors, especially Ronald J. Curry, and the organization's Presidents, Phyllis Bishop, Marion Langdon and Betty Morrow. Co-convenors of the 15th

Exhibition, Pat Irwin and Doreen Elstone, announced the winners of scholarships to the School of Fine Arts chosen by this year's jurors, as follows:

Design Award of the Ontario Craft Council to David Foster, Palmer Rapids for a ceramic teapot.

Pottery: 1st Barbara Peel, 2nd Pat Irwin, both from the Guild's Pottery Group.

Textile: 1st Wendy Bateman of Port Perry, 2nd, a quilt by Vera Bouchard of Minden.

Sculpture: 1st Arlene Stephens a stone cat, 2nd I. Gerhard, a wood sculpture.

Jewellery: 1st R. Tustin of London, 2nd R.J. Moddle.

Painting: 1st Audrey Grant, a cottage, 2nd Clarice Spencer of Willowdale.

Perhaps the contribution and influence of the Guild and School of Fine Arts can best be measured by the number of Exhibition winners who have taken summer courses or fall and winter workshops with them.

Using white and earth tones as co-ordinating colors, the 15th show featured canvases by Haliburton born artist Ethel Curry and two from the Andre Lapine collection which are to be housed in Minden's proposed gallery complex.

Ever popular were the live demonstrations by assorted weavers, spinners, potters, rug hookers, jewellery and leather workers. Nancy Woodall sketched at request and Robert Short used a small kiln to process his enamel work. This year's added features were a quilting group from West Guilford and a travelling exhibition from the Ontario Craft Council (funded by Wintario) including the works of enamellist Alan Perkins and ceramist Ruth Gowdy McKinley who uses wood to fire her kilns.

Worthy of special mention were display tables exclusively devoted to work by such local craftsmen as Sharon and Bob Barclay of Carnarvon showing pottery, shell, metal and leather work; the ceramics of Haliburton's Barbara Peel; delightful wooden toys from the Sheltered Workshop at Lakeview School and the original designs of Haliburton's Honica Zylstra who this year combined time-silvered barn boards with local wild flowers embedded in plastic for her plaques and ornamented her leather chokers with beads cut from tightly rolled paper.

As usual there was a display area devoted to works by instructors from the Haliburton School of Fine Arts: Sam Moligan, Ceramics; Mary Wallace, Children's Art; Judith Tink, Quilting; Peter Nichol, Driftwood Sculpture; and Carole Finn, Children's Ceramics.

Out of town exhibitors included Alice and Dick Tustin who work principally in silver and gemstones back for their 6th year, Maisie Boyd whose newest craft is an old one - apple dolls and a new exhibitor, Hildje, with knitted dolls and animals plus many others from all over Ontario.

One of the largest of most popular exhibits was devoted to the works of Haliburton potters: Betty Morrow, Marie Blair, Mildred Carr, Geraldine Feltham, Pat Irwin, Doreen Elstone, Shirley Walker, Leona Carter, Mary Wallace, Gloria Carnochan, Judy Phillips and Barbara Hore and Elizabeth Robinson.

Haliburton born Peter Carroll, a student at the Ontario College of Art, majoring in experimental art, was among area artists showing as was Cassandra Wyszowski, Leone Quesnel and cottagers, R. J. Moddle and Audrey Grant.

Exhibitors from the Guild's recently organized rug hooking group were Stella Stinson Ruth Varty, Thelma Ewing, Jessie Barnett, the late Alma Stewart, Ruby Law, Helen Knapp, G. Beckham and Mrs. Jack Foote. Quilts by Beatrice Taylor, The Eagle Lake W.A. Group, Wanda Scott, Vera Bouchard and Kay Barry were displayed.

Among the local textile entries were those by Isobel Harrison, Annie Jones, Mrs. C. Cassidy, Lucy Melrose, Carole McLean, Louise Weber, Mrs. G. Draper, Julie Gray, Marie Wallace, Nancy

Woodall, Jean Farrell, Judy Chapman, Dorothy Walker, and Thilde Nevitt, who for 8 consecutive years convened the Guild's Summer Exhibition. This year she is using her leisure for a Haliburton School of Fine Arts course in textile design with Jane Dams.

Other local exhibitors were Marion Magee with shell work, Dorothy Shantz with arrangements of native seeds and plants and enamels and metal craft by Robert Short.

The entire exhibition which attracted almost 400 viewers on opening night is set up and staffed by enthusiastic volunteers from communities all over the county. Its success in terms of business volume, attendance and community influence, is both a tribute to and realization of the founding members of the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts and the Haliburton School of Fine Arts who started it all with their "Dream of Excellence."

Camp is concerned about future need

by Julia Sikorski

While most camps provide for over all fun, self growth, social and skill development, of their campers, Camp Allsaw offers much more. Camp Allsaw was born out of a concern for a future need. Yes, Camp Allsaw is fun! Yes, it provides for social and skill development. For these things alone a camper can find achievement and fulfillment but, the main story behind Camp Allsaw lies in the concern for the environment.

Camp Allsaw is a privately owned camp located on R.R. 2, Haliburton, Ontario and is situated on beautiful Soyers Lake. Camp Allsaw offers a program of special interest to all environmentally and conservation minded parents who wish their children to learn and have fun in a conservation conscious atmosphere. The Camp offers a wide variety in program choice, - conservation, ecology, fitness, forestry, archery, canoeing, tripping, crafts, swimming - yet is readily affordable to all income groups. It is a camp which caters to all type of campers through its free choice of program. Two weeks to a month sessions provide ample opportunity to learn the new skills taught in various areas, as well as time to explore a self appointed project to those more skilled in a given field. The camp runs two, two week sessions for approximately seventy boys per session in the month of July, and a similar co-ed program is run during the month of August.

THE ALLSAW STORY
Modern man has created a multitude of wastes in his present affluence. Many modern practices are wasteful, even harmful to our environment. In general, most of us are wasteful in Canada's great wealth and affluence. We have never had to conserve. But beware, only in the past few years have we realized the need to conserve energy. Must the situation become critical before we are aware of the need to conserve the resources?

Over the years, a man named Sam G. Hambly, became more and more concerned about Canada's lack of respect for the environment. He saw that if we continued to live in our present mode of existence, that we could not survive for long and even more immediate, our children may not be able to enjoy the good things of life that we take for granted.

Since it is hard to change some of us stubborn adults - some of us are set in our ways, Mr. Hambly saw that the future indeed lay in the hands of our children. He saw that it was to them that we should be addressing the urgency of our present situation.

Mr. Hambly sights a few examples that convince him we must reeducate our society through its youth. "In March 1945, I was billeted in a factory worker in a densely populated area of Belgium. In this household, food was a valuable commodity. I was greatly impressed with the reverence and respect the head of this family had for the soil of his 1/16 acre garden plot. Here he and his family invested much of their time building and maintaining the quality of the soil. It was the produce of this garden that gave them insurance against hunger."

"On the farm in Simcoe County overlooking the southern part of Lake Simcoe, where I lived until 17 years of age, the culvert in the laneway has been replaced three times. Each time it has been enlarged to carry off more flood water laden with fertilizer and valuable top soil from the water shed. This flows into streams via Lake Simcoe, Georgian Bay and the Great Lakes - Lake Ontario from which the water supply for Metropolitan Toronto and other cities is pumped."

"A former Allsaw staff scuba diver about a year ago told me of a scuba diver lost at the 40 foot level in Lake Simcoe. The rescue party failed in their efforts to recover the victim due to a 4 ft. depth of slimy ooze on the floor of the lake that reduced visibility to zero."

But pollution can be prevented. A proper layer of mulch and the correct soil consistency can be maintained to avoid run off of precious soil and thus prevent excessive algae growth in our fresh water lakes.

Proper composting of everyday organic garbage wastes can provide excellent humus for the vigorous gardens that will ensure our children adequate food in the light of the world's advancing population.

So in 1962 Mr. Sam G. Hambly established Camp Allsaw to teach youngsters the skills necessary to meet these ends. This is the Allsaw story!

So if you are one of the environmentally concerned few who want their children to grow up with a concern for the environment, a concern for ones fellow man and a concern for ones health and fitness, as well as be in an atmosphere of good clean fun, look into the Allsaw program. I'm sure you'll like what you see.

For more information on the Allsaw program contact Mr. Sam G. Hambly at Camp Allsaw.

OTTAWA and SMALL BUSINESS

The Cloudy Crystal Balls

by JIM SMITH

Every cloud has a silver lining. Or, one man's calamity is another man's windfall. No matter how dismal the outlook, there is always someone else who stands to profit.

That, in a nutshell, is the situation in the economic forecasting business today. Rapid inflation, annoying resource scarcities, and exceptionally high unemployment have sent Canadians reeling - and the nation's planners scrambling to enlist the services of "futurists".

A few weeks ago, some of the better futurists got together at Kingston's Queen's University for a conference titled "Shaping the Future". John Bulloch, President of the Canadian Federation of Independent Business, sat in on the meetings and came away convinced that some futurists are using cloudy crystal balls.

"We Canadians have always thought that we were shaping one of the world's first post-industrial societies," Bulloch said after the conference. "In fact, we never

Doctor welcome in Village of Minden

Anson, Hindon and Minden council says that Dr. J.W. Lodenquai is welcome in the village but they are not getting involved in a civil dispute.

Council was answering a petition sent to them last week with over 600 names on it.

The petition stated, "This letter will represent our views to you regarding Dr. J.W. Lodenquai. We feel he is a just and fair man, plus a good medical doctor, who deserves a chance to relocate in the Village of Minden. He should also receive as much support as possible from council in this respect."

In a letter from Dr. Lodenquai to the council he intends to stay in Minden and will start an independent medical practice. "I hope that I will receive the blessing and co-operation from council and from the residents of Minden."

Pave road if there is grant

Bobcaygeon Road in Minden will be paved if the Ministry of Transportation and Communications will subsidize the cost.

Richard Parisotto, the municipal clerk, told the newspaper that with the installation of the sewers only half of the road would be paved, but in order to pave the entire road the MTC would be asked to pay part of the cost.

The council decided to send a letter to the MTC to see if funding is available.

There was concern expressed at last week's council meeting about the road paving, if only half was done.

News from Extendicare

BY DR. O.W. ANDERSON

It is nice to see our American friends returning for their summer stay in this area. We think we are extra lucky when Mr. Carl Bohne, of Boston, was here to visit one of us and stayed a while to entertain us on the piano. He is quite a gifted musician.

Wednesday was the day Mrs. Miriam Lewis loaded us on the school bus and drove the bus to Peterborough. Mrs. Lewis is certified as being qualified to drive so we felt quite safe. On this trip we passed through Bobcaygeon and Buckhorn. Both places seemed to be sleeping. Eventually we pulled up and parked in Peterborough Riverside Zoo where soon we ate the dinner we brought along and found it to be very satisfying. Most of the afternoon we visited with the creatures we found in the cages and pens in the park, eventually winding up at the miniature railway that was no doubt built for our enjoyment. Half of us went on one trip and the other half on the next. Next we moved to the liflock where we watched them juggle the two huge basins making one come down while the other lifted. From there we went to Col. Sanders on Water Street where we put away chicken, french fries, and cole slaw. That took over an hour but we were in no hurry. We got away by about a quarter after six, getting home 2 hours later. It was a good trip and we were pleased that we had no really newsworthy incidents to report.

It is reported to us that the nurses held a meeting on Thursday afternoon to be shown the safest way to handle residents. It seems that at times we have to be handled and when we do we want to be on the safe side.

Obituary

Mary Jane Cooper

There passed away at the Hyland Crest Senior Citizens' Home, on May 5th, 1977, Mary Jane Cooper, a resident of Hyland Crest since October of 1974. Born to Hannah Craig and John Bird, April 12th, 1877, in Guilford Township. Mrs. Cooper was the last surviving member of a family which included the children of her mother's first marriage to James Scott of Harcourt; William John (killed in youth in a logging accident near Dorset), Janet (burned in a domestic accident at 9 years), Thomas Scott who married and raised a family of 5 in Guilford Township; also brothers and sisters Sarah Anne (Parish), Francis (Sisson), Maria (Tamblyn), Jim Bird, Ben Bird (killed at the Somme Sept. 16, 1916 and awarded the Military Cross), and Archie Bird (drowned in Kennis with two others in 1908).

On Christmas Day, 1907, Mary Jane married John Cooper, a son of William and Fanny Cooper, of Boshkung, and they bought a farm on the shores of Grass Lake, Guilford Township, where twin daughters, Lorna and Leona were born to them several years after the death of a first child, Elsie, at 4 months. The Cooper twins were the first to be delivered by Haliburton's Dr. Soady who took a personal pride and interest in their development until he moved to California. Besides the twins three sons, Trevor, James and Basle were born to Mr. & Mrs. Jack Cooper. In addition to teaching Sunday School at the Baptist Church and later at the West Guilford Gospel Chapel, and working with the Women's Mission Circle, Mary Jane Cooper used her natural gifts

Lake levels up due to rain

The rainfall of July 12 has kept the Kawartha Lakes levels well up in their navigation ranges so that minimal amounts of reservoir water have been required. Flows were increased slightly on the Gull River to aid cottagers on Shadow and Silver Lakes, but held to low levels on the Burnt River and all other watersheds supplying the Trent system. On July 11th, the reservoir storage stood at about 65 per cent, having lost only one per cent since July 4th.

Kawartha Lakes outflows down the Otonabee River are still being held to minimum. This last week a film crew from T.V. Ontario which is the Ontario Educational Channel, have been at various sites along the Waterway filming for "Ontario Scene". Two of these shows will highlight the Trent-Severn Waterway and will be aired sometime this fall.

We are presently fabricating exhibit panels to be placed at Lock 1, Peterboro Lift Lock, Bobcaygeon, and Port Severn Lock. Some of the exhibit panels are up and in place at the Peterboro Lift Lock.

These help to explain the operation and mechanics of the Liftlock. The other panels at the other locations will be erected soon and will explain the canal from its early beginning to its present lock operations.

Sewers in new areas
Anson, Hindon and Minden council has decided that the new sewage system will service three proposed subdivisions in the municipality.

The three subdivisions, McKnight with 21, Hewitt with 51, and Windover with 110 lots will not be too much for the system according to municipal clerk, Richard Parisotto.

There had been some concern expressed at an earlier council meeting about the number of lots that could be serviced on the system.

50-50 winner

Ruth Menard of Kinmount, Ont. was the winner of the Gooderham Ladies Softball Team 50-50 draw.

She received a prize of $100. The draw was made by Reeve, Robert Fotheringham Reeve of Glamorgan Township.

Anson, Hindon, Minden Council news and notes

The municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden will be sending some pictures to the town of Minden in Germany. Minden, Germany has reached the age of 1,000 and the manager of the tourist office in the town has made a request for pictures of the Village of Minden, Canada.

Anson, Hindon and Minden could be changing its minimum road specification for new subdivision. The municipality is looking into the possibility of making it a requirement to have roads in subdivisions paved.

Anson, Hindon and Minden council gave permission to the Kinette Club of Minden and the Rotary Club of Minden to hold Flea Markets. The Rotary Clubs will be later this month and the Kinette Club's will be in September.

Council will be continuing the home renewal program. Council decided at its last meeting to continue the home renewal program in Anson, Hindon and Minden. The program is financed by the provincial government.

The municipality will take on the task of having the lights at the softball diamond fixed. The council made the decision at its meeting last Wednesday.

Anson, Hindon and Minden council last Wednesday approved two more adult immunization clinics for the municipality.

The council decided to accept the highest offer on the building and the land at the public washrooms. Council decided some time ago to close the washrooms.

Police offer some advice concerning marking property

The Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police has expressed some concern that most property owners cannot identify their stolen property to the satisfaction of a court.

The police suggest in a news release that the serial numbers of all items you own be recorded and the information kept in a secure place.

Any items not marked with a serial number can now be permanently marked with a new invisible ink system as well.

The Brinks Security Marking System is a felt pen that marks property with an invisible ink which can be detected with a special light which is available at the Minden Ontario Provincial Police detachment.

"One pen will mark all the items in an average house. It is quick, clean and will provide positive identification of your property," the release states.

The detachment release suggests that those wishing more information should contact Fire Chief, Dick Kinsman, or the detachment office.

Overcoming location step for industry

Dysart et al, and for that matter the rest of Haliburton County is getting a new industry.

Getting industry has been a long hard struggle for the area. There are many things that have to be overcome. Among them is the geographical location of Haliburton County.

The thing that John Eakins, Dysart Council and the Industrial Commission seem to have found out that the geographical location can be somewhat overcome by working to show how the area could benefit the industry.

We are getting a new industry in the area and everyone will benefit. At The Echo we would like to thank John Eakins, Dysart Council and the industrial development commission for the accomplishment of getting an industry for the area and we would like to thank Thaler Metal Industries Ltd., for being pioneers, so to speak, and seeing the potential of locating in an area like Haliburton County.

Unified front needed

We agree with John Eakins' idea that Haliburton County needs an industrial park.

The county has taken the first step in establishing a unified front concerning any industrial development. There is an industrial development commission for the area.

The second step should be the realization that industry isn't falling all over itself trying to locate in Haliburton County.

This area just isn't ideally suited to too many types of industry. One way we can get around this problem is do what Mr. Eakins suggests. We could form joint industrial parks. If all of the municipalities in Haliburton County got together on a park venture, all of the resources could be put together, giving us a better chance to get more industry.

Swimming from culvert

Dysart et al Council expressed a great deal of concern last week for the safety of youngsters swimming at the new Drag Lake culvert.

We would suggest that people swimming in any unsupervised area is dangerous. On top of that at the culvert there are loose stones and deep, sometimes moving water to add to the hazard.

The Council is correct in assuming that there should be no swimming from the culvert.

One wonders if parents of these youngsters know the dangers of swimming in that area or if they know their youngsters are swimming at the culvert.

If never fails to happen, the municipality goes to some expense maintaining a beach area on Head Lake and some people find an unmaintained area more to their liking.

Cleaning up old cars

Dysart et al, through provincial government program will soon have a number of its derelict cars cleaned up.

The program serves a couple of needs in the community. The first is that it cleans up the ugly old cars which we see around in fields and bushes and it provides work for a few people in the area.

All municipal councils in Ontario should be looking to programs like this to generate jobs and some money within the municipality.

We have been corresponding recently with Mr. Arthur F. Hiscock of 2570 Evelyn Court, Mississauga, Ontario, a former resident of Haliburton. The above photo shows the house that Mr. Hiscock was born in. This house is still standing and is owned by Mr. & Mrs. Glenn Austin. Glenn, who is a good carpenter himself, has made several changes on this home and it is now one of the nicest looking homes in town. As you can see, many changes have been made since this photo was taken.

OPP scuba divers Wednesday of last week recovered the body of Hugh Broderick, 11, of Ardwick Blvd., North York, from seven feet of water where he drowned last Tuesday attempting to swim the calm, 60 foot wide Black River near Cobocok. Police said Hugh's cousins, Chris Thorne, 12, of Kessack Court, Scarborough, and his brother Gary, 13, tried to rescue him but couldn't hold on.

Congratulations this week to Charlie Plewman who has been made an honorary member of the Haliburton Rotary Club. Charlie, who is at present a resident of Extensicare, has been a good member of Rotary for many years and has been welcomed into the Haliburton Club for, we hope, many more years.

Well, finally after years of waiting it is sure good news to hear that we are going to have an industry here in Haliburton County. Dysart council and representatives of Thaler Metal Industries Ltd., of West Hill, met at a recent meeting of council to confirm that the industry was planning a 25,000 square foot plant in the municipality of Dysart et al, near Donald. We welcome this new industry and their management into the community with open arms. This new industry was brought into the county through the efforts of the Dysart municipal council, the Haliburton County Industrial Commission, along with the assistance and hard work of our hard working MPP, John Eakins. We hope that in the not too distant future that other industries will locate here in the county so that it will enable us to have a good year economy instead of just trying to get along on two months business.

Today (Wednesday) is the time for the 32nd annual Haliburton Legion Carnival at the Haliburton Arena and Fairgrounds. Why not plan now to bring along the entire family for an afternoon and evening of fun and entertainment.

As you will notice in an advertisement in this week's Echo, tenders are out for the construction of extensions to the Provincial Sewer System for the Township of Dysart et al, in Haliburton Village. Let's hope that construction will start in the very near future.

Some brushing and clearing has taken place at the new proposed park on Head Lake at Haliburton. We like to call it Haliburton's Ontario Place. It will be quite some time before it is completed and a bridge will be constructed to connect it with the present Rotary Park and beach.

Work is continuing on the Sanitary Sewer System in the Village of Minden at a very fast rate of speed. Some citizens apparently are kicking about the inconvenience caused by the installation of these sewers but if you are going to have progress you have to face the fact that you have to put up with a little inconvenience.

Last week we touched on the matter of household garbage being placed in the Department of Highways barrels placed along side the highways and in local parks. Local citizens must be made aware of the fact that these barrels are for the use of litter only. Household garbage is meant to be taken to the local dumps. From what we can gather, some of the parks and their cleanup are put up for tender. Let's hope that some of the offenders will be caught and this nonsense stopped.

John Eakins, MPP, who has opened a constituency office for Haliburton County, at the Dysart municipal building in Haliburton, will have it open every Tuesday and Thursday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Telephone 457-1986. If you have any problems this is your opportunity to have your MPP look into them.

Clifford (Hebe) Watt, of Haliburton, was telling us the other day that when he was in the cartage business he travelled thousands of miles but not once did he run across a wolf. Well, last Saturday afternoon, while driving in from Eagle Lake to Haliburton, a wolf ran across in front of his truck. The wolf came out of Glebe Park, ran across the highway and went down past the municipal garage.

The new floodlights have been installed at the tennis courts at Haliburton and now it will be tennis under the lights. These new lights were funded by a Wintario grant. I live near the tennis courts and one thing that I have noticed is the fact that less tennis is being played this year. The gates have been locked by the tennis club and they are only open from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. for the general public. One thing that we have noticed is that people are coming to play tennis in the mornings and can't get on the courts. It's a crime to see the courts being idle. Some people tell us that they are now going to Minden to play tennis where the courts are open all day long and evening for the general public.

Dysart has taken another step in its quest to bring development to the municipality. The municipal council has passed a zoning bylaw.

What is entailed in a zoning bylaw. Well, taxpayers in the municipality will have the opportunity to find out when their tax bills arrive.

A zoning bylaw covers the municipality and defines the use of the land by parcels in that area. Reeve, Murray Fearrey, explained that the bylaw reflects the existing use of the land.

Residents will be wise though to attend the open house too, at the municipal building, to discuss the bylaw. It will be a real lesson into what a municipality, and the council goes through. Most of us will never even read the bylaw and many will never even realize that it is there, but it is a handy item to have around if any consideration is being given to development.

Dysart is fortunate, there is an official plan and there will soon be sewers for the Village of Haliburton. The zoning bylaw, which goes hand in hand with the official plan, will and is another step in good orderly development coming to the area.

I took a trip out to Harburn Wells, or Indian Wells, whatever you like to call them, last week. The fellows working on the project are doing quite a job clearing out these strange holes in the ground.

The Haliburton Kinsmen Club should be congratulated for taking an initiative on a project to make the wells a tourist attraction.

If you have never seen them, it is well worth the trip. If you are wondering how to get there, ask any member of the Kinsmen Club.

As others see it

Dear Sir:

On behalf of the Haliburton District Association for the Mentally Retarded, I would like to report the total collected for the 1977 Flowers of Hope campaign. So far we have received $3,374.38. The success of our fund raising this year is due to the many volunteers who canvassed the communities in the county. To these hard workers, and to the many generous donors, the Association offers its sincere thanks.

Bob Heyes,
Flowers of Hope Chairman

There has been a tendency over the years for Canadians to dismiss arguments that they live dangerously beyond their means as abstract sermons that may be true but which require little or no change in life styles.

The fact is that Canadians do and because they do, they are in a serious economic and moral position. Canadians are in the old something-for-nothing syndrome or what might be described as getting someone else to finance their dreams of the good life. It's called plastic money or getting small loans from finance companies to pay the grocery bill.

The hard, cold facts are that Canadians have come to the end of the road in their attempts to have the government bankroll them. They have encouraged government spending to jump from 26 per cent of the nation's output in the 1950's to 40 per cent today. In cash that means from $8 billion a year to $75 billion. It comes right out of the taxpayers' pocket too.

But instead of changing attitudes Canadians kept demanding more so the government printed more money which merely added to the inflationary spiral.

Then still unwilling to live within their means, Canadians tried another tack - borrowing from foreign lenders. In 1975 and 1976 Canada became the world's largest per capita borrower. Canada didn't just borrow to improve its worn-out manufacturing systems and provide new jobs. It borrowed to continue financing consumption.

Now, the tax load won't bear much more. The Bank of Canada won't print new money and the borrowing has eaten up enormous amounts of money in interest and repayments.

Where does Canada go from here? How does Canada get more out of the economy than it can provide?

Perhaps for a change Canadians will listen, start to live within their means and thereby take the burden off the poor and underprivileged and find again what it means to conserve and save.

Remember the good old days when mom and dad got you out of bed during a summer thunderstorm...and you stood sleepy and shivering in your nightgown wishing only to get back into your bed even if it did mean certain death? Or, remember running about the house unplugging the radio, the lamps, anything electrical? And remember those warnings not to use the telephone while a storm was on? Remember the lightning rods on the barn (always) and the house (sometimes)?

Now, as people have grown more sophisticated, not many get excited during an electrical storm. Storms come and go, and life seems to go on normally throughout them all. Showers are taken, telephone calls are made, the kids watch television, mom does the laundry, dad stays in his all-electric woodworking shop.

In the United States, lightning is considered by authorities to be a bigger threat to life than floods. It is estimated that lightning kills one person and injures four in that country every single day.

Canadian statistics are better. Only six people were killed by lightning in 1974. The Globe and Mail indicates that its files show that 104 Canadians died from lightning bolts between 1962 and 1972, with 80 per cent of those deaths occurring in Ontario and Quebec. In recent years there has been a dramatic increase in deaths by lightning - 10 people were killed in Ontario between July 1975 and June 1976 reports say.

The Ontario Safety League states that you can expect, in your immediate square mile, one or two strokes during each thunderstorm. If your area, for example, has 25 electrical storms yearly, you may expect from 25 to 50 lightning bolts to hit within a half-mile of your house this year.

According to the League, the most dangerous time is just before the storm when dark clouds appear and the air is charged with electricity. If you are outdoors at that time and your hair feels as if it is standing on end, you are being set up as a perfect lightning target.

If you're in or on the water, get out. Stay away from wire fences, clotheslines, overhead wires or towers, and machinery. Avoid isolated trees and wide-open spaces where you might be the tallest thing around. A structure made of any type of metal will provide good protection since metal is an excellent electrical conductor. If this is not available and you are on open ground, lie flat.

If you are inside, don't stand in doorways or near open windows. Keep away from the fireplace, sink, bathroom fixtures, the phone and the television set. It makes good sense to unplug all electrical appliances (lightning can produce an electrical current in the TV's antenna and cause a short circuit in the set).

Even being trapped in a car is good protection. You are completely surrounded by metal and to the League's knowledge, lightning has never struck an occupant of a rubber-tired automobile.

Respect lightning says the Ontario Safety League. It is erratic and dangerous.

Kinsmen Club start project to make Harburn Wells a tourist attraction

The Haliburton Kinsmen Club thought they were cleaning out five holes at the Harburn Natural Wells. The work crew at the site though have upped that number to at least nine and possibly more.

In October of 1976 the Executive of the Kinsmen Club was looking for a project which would benefit the community and help publicize the Highlands of Haliburton as a tourist area which had something unique to offer our visitors.

After looking at many ideas the Indian Wells or "Harburn Natural Wells" seemed the most interesting and most neglected natural attraction. The Club decided to adopt this attraction as its Community project.

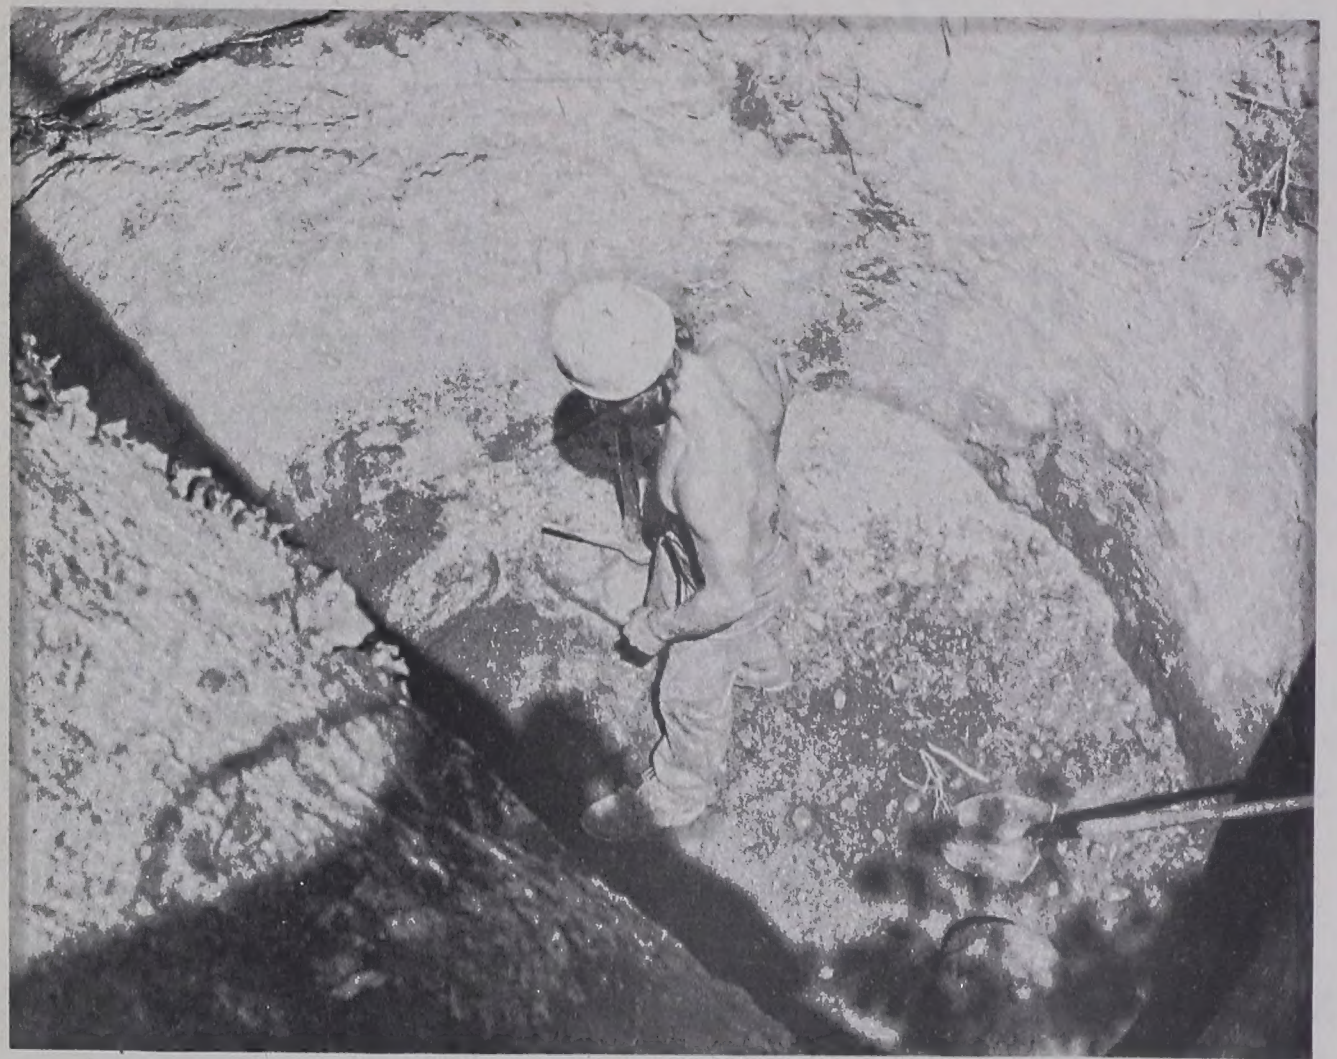

With help from the Municipality of Dysart et al the property was acquired and applications to Wintario and the Young Canada Works Program for funds were sent out.

Early in May the club received word from the Young Canada Program stating that our application had been approved. Immediately chairman Murray Stephenson reported the good news to the Club and then began to set up job interviews to fill the three jobs outlined for the project.

Around the first of June rumors started to be heard that the club may be getting some more money for more manpower. Sure enough, on June 6, a call from the Manpower office in Peterborough confirmed that it would be receiving additional funds for two more workers.

Work started on the project June 20 and runs through August 19. When completed all natural wells will be cleaned out, railings put around them, and steps built up to them. For anyone who has not seen these natural wonders, take the time to drive out and explore them. They are only 20 minutes from Haliburton and are a sight well worth the effort to see them.

Larry Stinson works in one of the Harburn Wells. This well is by far the biggest of the nine or ten that have been found. When The Echo was at the wells, Larry still hadn't reached bottom in this one.

Steve Bonnici of Toronto, the foreman on the work crew to clean up and improve the area around Indian Wells, clears some of the brush away from the area. The Indian or Harburn Wells are on the side of a hill near Richie Lake, up the Harburn Road about nine miles from Haliburton Village.

There is little known about origin of Harburn Wells

When trying to find out what the Harburn Natural Wells are all about, one quickly learns that little is known and you become less sure of yourself the more you learn.

The Harburn Indian Natural Wells are located near Richie Lake off the Harburn Road. The Haliburton Kinsmen Club is presently backing a project which is funded by a government grant to make the wells a better tourist attraction.

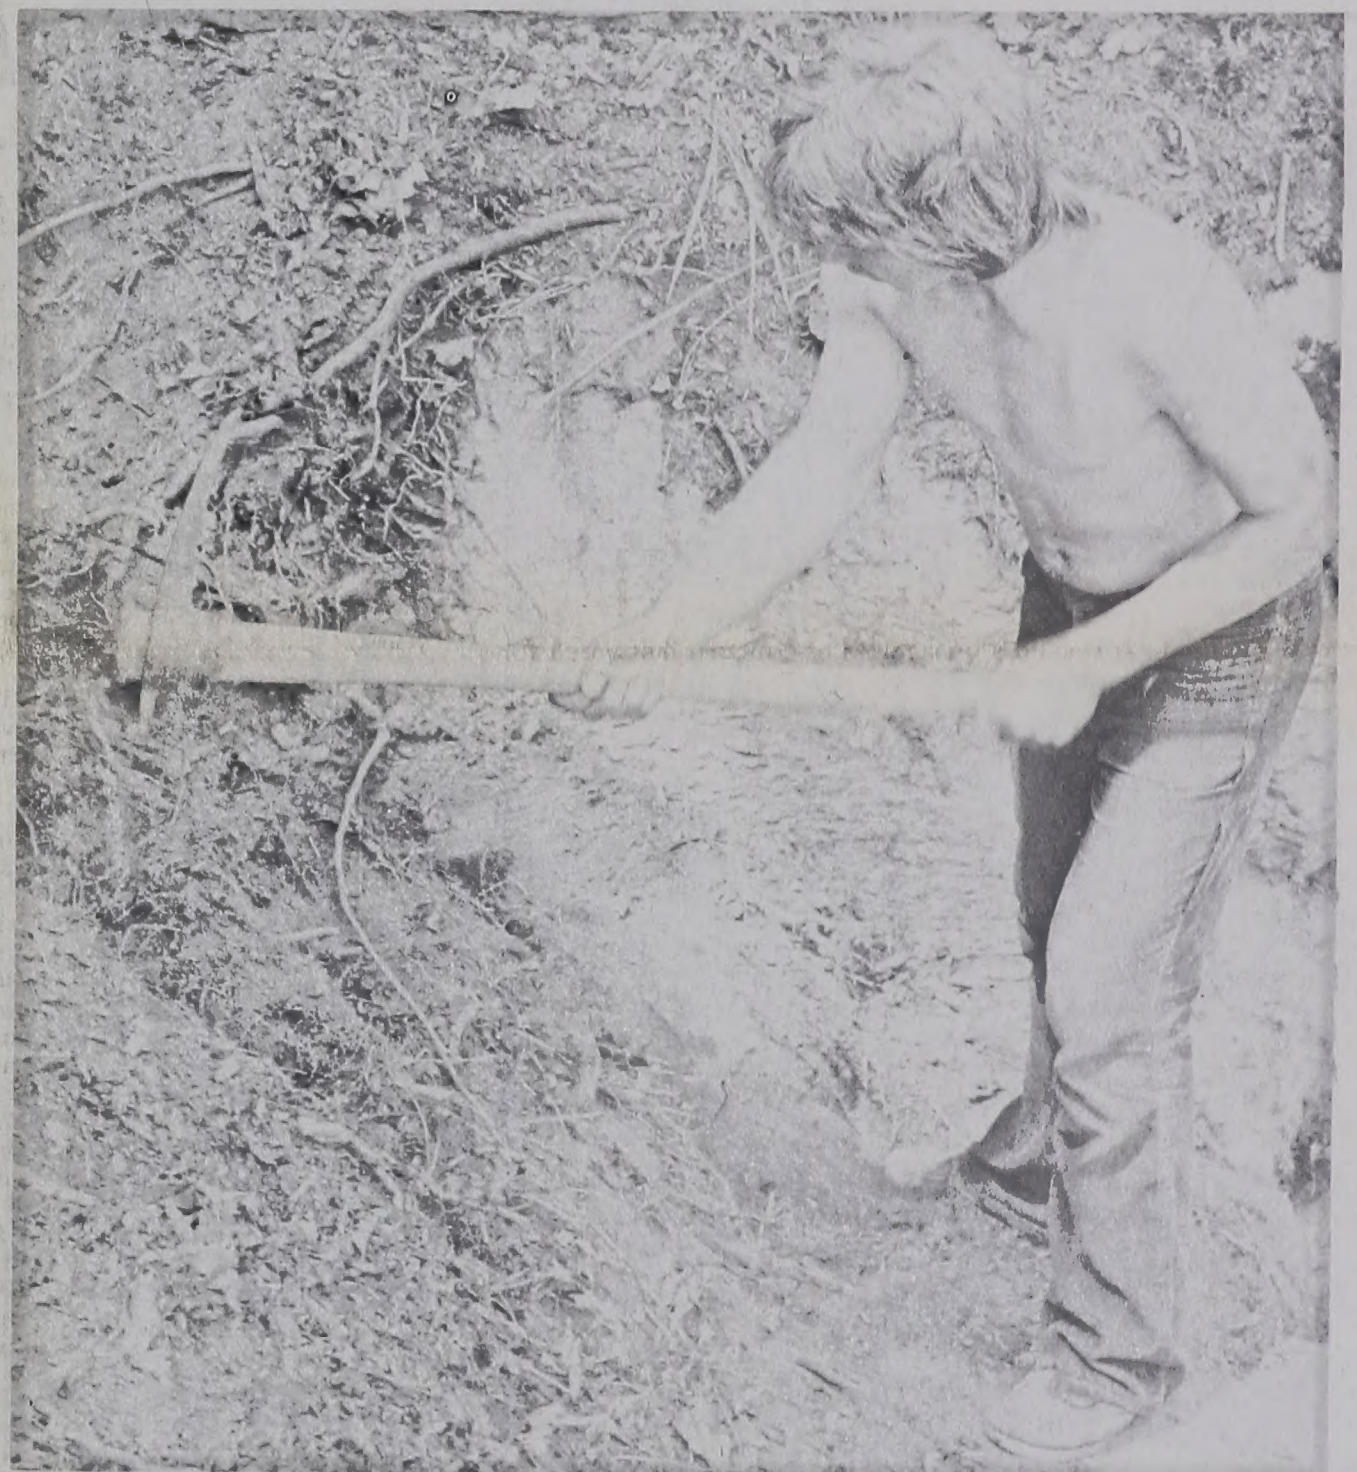

What isn't known about the wells, though, is how they were formed. A reporter learns that everyone has a different idea about just what caused these wells that look as if they were dug in the rock on purpose.

Speculation has it that the wells were formed by rocks rolling in a river running down the side of the hill, swirling around in whirlpools.

Others have guessed at many other ways the wells could have been formed, but by far the most interesting is the theory that the Indian Wells area was at one time a landing place for rockets from outer space.

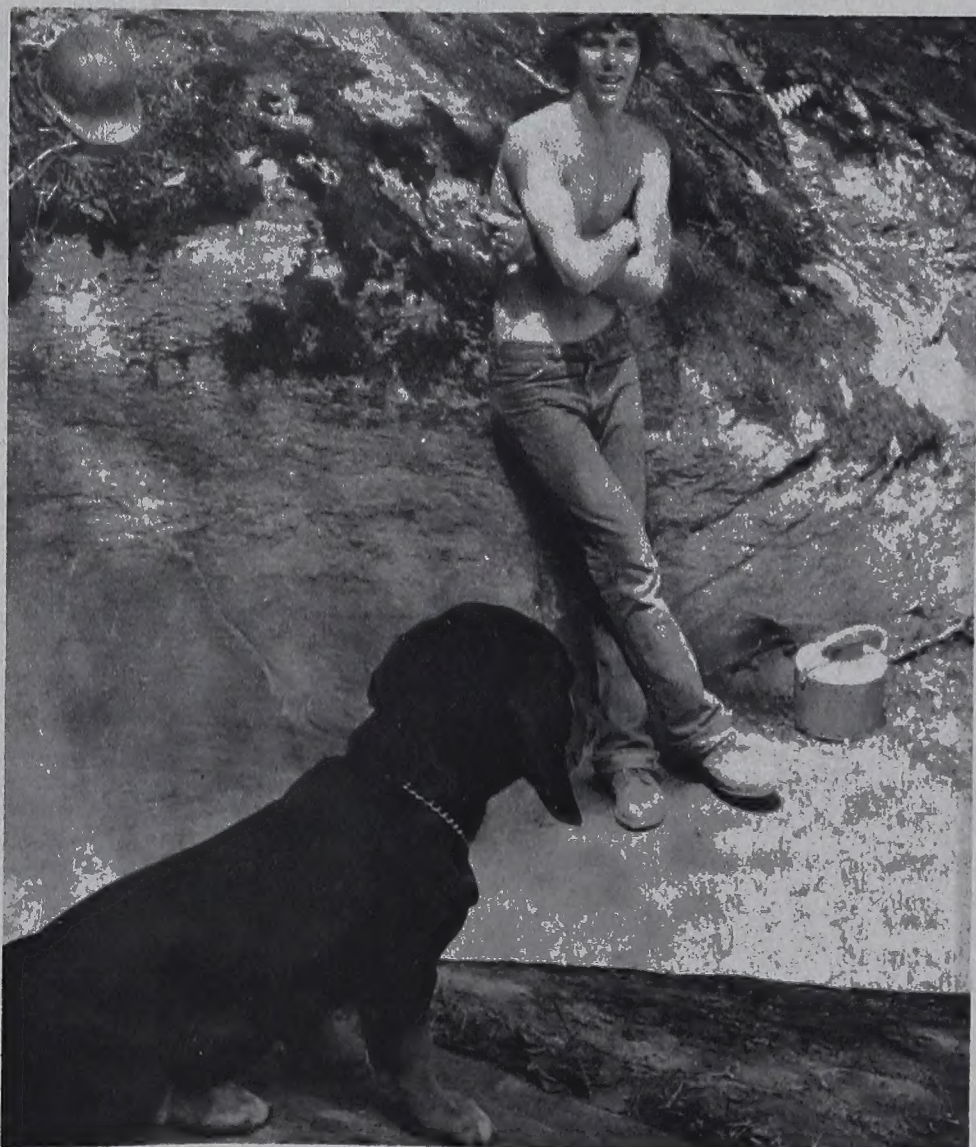

Whatever the reason is, the Haliburton Kinsmen Club, with the help of the government and the crew working on the project, has made and is making the wells easier to see and get to. Perhaps as the Kinsmen open the area of the wells up for the tourists, more and more reasons for the formation of the wells will be found.

Pete Johnson clears some dirt away hoping to find even more wells. The crew say the area is full of surprises as they have found more and more wells in the time they have been working there. People are not certain what caused the wells to form.

Jasmine keeps a close watch while Bob Gow takes a little break from clearing one of the wells. Jasmine is the group's mascot. The Indian or Harburn Wells are a project of the Haliburton Kinsmen Club.

The work crew at Harburn Indian Wells includes Bob Gow, of Haliburton, Steve Bonnici, of Toronto, Peter Johnson, of Haliburton, Larry Stinson, of Haliburton, and Wally Edwards, of Haliburton. Here the group is seen taking a break along with their mascot Jasmine, a basset hound.

New Horizons assistance

Bill Scott, MP Victoria-Haliburton, has learned that three communities in the district will be receiving assistance under the New Horizons Program.

The communities involved are Buckhorn, Cannington and Sunderland.

In Buckhorn, the Harvey-Smith Senior Citizens Club will receive $7,155.00 to assist in furnishing and equipping their Senior Citizens Drop-In Centre.

In Cannington, the Lawn Bowling Club will be given a supplementary grant of $3,070.00 to complete the renovations of their clubhouse and bowling greens.

The Sunderland Sixty Plus Club will receive assistance to improve and equip their meeting room which is located in the basement of the Town Hall. Assistance to the Sunderland group will be in the amount of $3,586.00.

Numerous Senior Citizens groups have been assisted through the New Horizons Program throughout the riding of Victoria-Haliburton. All told, almost 8,000 projects have been funded since the inception of the Program in 1972, enabling Senior Citizens across Canada to engage in a variety of rewarding activities.

In the Hospital

In the hospital this week are Mr. Morley McGrath, Mrs. Maria Birsztvilkis, Mr. Earl Twa, Mrs. Mona Bocking, Mrs. Mary Priest, and Mrs. Patricia Simmons and baby boy.

OPP report

Members of the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police investigated 10 motor vehicle collisions and 118 general occurrences during the week of July 11 to 17.

There were four break-ins investigated, four compassionate messages delivered and two persons charged with Liquor License Act violations.

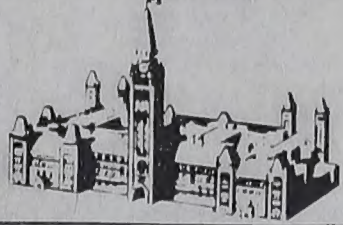

No parking cars near fair grounds

Anson, Hindon and Minden council has decided to put up, temporarily, no parking signs on Bobcaygeon Road and Parkside Crescent, in the area of the fair grounds, during the Haliburton County Fair.

A letter from the Minden Agricultural Society asked for the temporary ban due to parking problems in the area. Other roads in the area will also be affected by the ban.

OTTAWA and Small Business

have had a strong industrial base. We just bang metal and assemble things in foreign-owned branch plants. And our heavy employment in the service sector is really government employees supported by heavy taxes on the resource sector. Now resources are running out, manufacturing jobs are moving to the Third World and the futurists predict dire consequences.

"The predictions were a little frightening: a decline in our position as a trading nation, growing international deficits, a decline in the value of our dollar and millions of young people with no upward job mobility were just a handful of the worst."

Significantly, however,

Bullock dismisses much of the gloom. "At the same conference," he points out, "I discovered that more planners than I had dreamed possible have recognized that smallness is the answer to our problems."

Consider, for example, the unemployment problem. For decades, energy prices have been unrealistically low. So farms and factories used energy gobbling methods of replacing human labour. But now, as energy prices rise, labour becomes competitive with energy. So small factories and small farms are economical again - and employment will increase. Every cloud has a silver lining.

Meanwhile, higher energy prices have spurred research into alternative forms of energy. Reasonably priced solar homes are being built today that can cut energy costs by two-thirds. And these same homes, looking a little like greenhouses, can be used to grow vegetables, raise fish, purify water and turn wastes into fertilizer.

Ironically, then, our big problems are being solved by small answers: small plants, small-scale technology, small farms, small businesses and small communities. If we are going to continue to look in crystal balls for big answers to our big problems then our future will certainly look cloudy.

Obituary

for healing in nursing the sick wherever she was needed in the community, especially by the young mothers. She began by assisting the local midwife, Mrs. Duncan Bain, and when age made Mrs. Bain's service impossible, Mary Jane Cooper assumed a commitment to the suffering which continued until improved road conditions and the Red Cross Hospital at Haliburton made a doctor available. She proudly recorded the delivery of more than 30 healthy babies.

Tragedy touched the Cooper family in December of 1962 with the untimely death of a twin daughter, Leona (Mrs. Herk Barry) resulting from a car accident which killed the husband. In July of 1965 Jack Cooper was laid to rest in the United Church Cemetery at Maple Lake.

Mr. & Mrs. Cooper were among the builders of the West Guilford Gospel Chapel and donated the land upon which it rests. Her Christian principles and abiding faith in God's goodness were not only the life motivation of Mary Jane Cooper, but the passport to eternity she treasured. Her burial service was held in the Gospel Chapel. Pallbearers were: Sam Rivers, Ernie Cooper, Eric Cooper, Paul Espie, L.C. Morrison and Murray Hague and interment was at the United Church Cemetery, Maple Lake.

Mrs. Cooper leaves to mourn her loss 93 living descendants (3 deceased). They include a daughter, Mrs. Lorna Stackhouse, and 3 sons, Trevor, James and Basle; 26 grandchildren, 54 great-grandchildren, and 9 great-great grandchildren.

Canada Pension

Q. How do I know if all my earnings and contributions have been properly recorded so that I will get credit when I apply for my pension?

A. A record of your earnings and contributions is recorded in the Head Office of the Canada Pension Plan. The Legislation allows you once a year to apply for and receive a statement indicating the amounts credited to your Social Insurance Number. Forms for this purpose are available at your nearest Canada Pension Plan Office.

Q. What is the maximum retirement benefit payable under the Canada Pension Plan in 1977?

A. The maximum retirement pension payable in 1977 is $173.61.

Q. I will reach the age of 65 years in 1977, and by then will have contributed to the Canada Pension Plan for slightly more than 11 years. I plan to continue working. Should I apply for my retirement pension to commence the month following my 65th birthday, or should I delay applying and make further contributions?

A. If you have been contributing on maximum earnings since 1966 there would be no financial advantage to you in delaying application, and you should apply for a retirement pension to commence the month following your 65th birthday. If, however, you have had one or more years where your earnings have been at less than the maximum on which you can contribute, it could be to your advantage in the long run to delay application. You should definitely contact your Canada Pension Plan district office for counselling as to your options.

AIR HALIBURTON

Fortunate to be Canadian

by Earl C. McDermid
Unity Council of Canada Committee

How fortunate we are to have been born Canadians. How lucky are those of us who are not born in Canada, but found her by choice and made her their Shangri-la. The question, "What do we want as Canadians?" could be answered from as many points of view as there are different kinds of Canadians. A far more potent question, and one that we all are least likely to ask ourselves, even though much more might be gained by this kind of self-assessment is: "What do we already have as Canadians?" How, for example, do we compare to other people and other life styles in other lands around the world?

So much is so readily available to each and every one of us, either provided by our own hand out of opportunity or by nature alone, that one must stop to contemplate what our standard of life might be, should we be so unfortunate as to lose even half of the many things we take for granted every day. How grateful we should be that we are free to do what millions around the world are not free to do.

No country in the world is more envied than we by people outside our borders, for what we have, what we have done and what we have to look forward to in the future.

Our forefathers, through their courage, loyalty, hardship, sweat, tears and a sincere desire to build a better life for their children than they had for themselves, have left us now with so many opportunities and too many hours of leisure, that we find time outside our many pleasures to dwell on discontent and misplaced ambition.

How many millions of people around the world could ever, in their wildest dreams, hope someday, to be in a position to choose between two such beautiful places to make their home, as Ontario and Quebec, or to awaken in the morning to the waving majesty of the prairie grain fields of Manitoba and Saskatchewan, or see the peaks of the Rockies towering defiantly between the two most magnificent of nature's creations, Alberta and British Columbia? The provinces of the Eastern Region and the Maritimes from New Brunswick to the wind-swept shores of Newfoundland, with their matchless tranquility and never-changing enchantment will forever defy the reason you cannot go home again.

Why then, with relative utopia within our grasp, have we allowed the linkage that binds us together to wear thin?

Is it because as a people we have not been considerate of each other and each other's needs? Have we taken advantage of each other when opportunity was there and forgotten that we were sisters, or is it simply that the constant wrenching of the chain over one hundred years of Confederation has weakened the linkage in the most critical areas due to a lack of proper maintenance and thoughtful surveillance? It is incumbent upon our leaders toward a common goal and for the common good, and to heal the wounds that have been inflicted, however bloodless. There is little difference, if any, between a people without a purpose and a country without a cause.

As Canadians, it is time we realized that we have an obligation to each other, that we have an obligation to people outside our country; that we while depending heavily on our neighbours and friends across the ocean for our economic stability and national security, have also their loyalty and respect, out of gratitude for our priceless contribution to their return to freedom through our participation during the years of global conflict and the uneasy peace that followed.

How can we now so easily forget the sacrifices of two world wars in which young Canadians, both men and women, rallied to the cause of country and freedom and fell as lonely comrades far from the land of their birth for which they so unselfishly made the ultimate sacrifice.

The blood they shed not French blood or English blood, it was not Polish, Ukrainian, Irish, Scottish or any other. It was Canadian blood all the same colour and all the same worth. It was not spilled on Canadian soil, but for the sake of it, and for the freedom of it, as much as for the land in which they now rest.

It has been said, rightly or wrongly, that if history teaches us anything, it is that history teaches us nothing. Let us, as intelligent people, prove that those who believe that history teaches us something are right and those who believe to the contrary are wrong.

Never in this country's history have we had so much reason to feel concerned for our future. Never has a generation been so close to betraying the trust placed in them by those who have gone before. Now that the whole world is watching us, let us play out our role from centre stage to show our ability to be resolute, to overcome adversity, to be a valued and dependable link to the free world, a shining example of freedom and democracy at its very best, and that common virtue is immortal.

Do not, as Canadians, underestimate your value in the world community and make no mistake, any kind of disunity that divides us or threatens our polarization as a nation, could very well be celebrated by people of other political philosophy, as the first crack in freedom's North American armour. There are powers in the world poised and ready to take advantage of such weakness. If we cannot stand together and understand each other as a people, can you imagine the awesome consequences we must be prepared to face?

Who are we as Canadians? Were we not, from the very beginning, a people spawned from the very spirit of mankind, out of adversity, conflict, oppression and an unyielding passion to stand alone as individuals from a desire given to adventure?

The French-speaking people of Canada are proud of their heritage, as well they should be. The courageous early French explorers, now honoured by history, are heroes not only to French-speaking Canadians, but to all who marvel at the stories of their exploits and adventures. Cartier, Lasalle, Frontenac and Champlain, just to mention a few, are still and forever will be, a part of the Canadian image.

Anyone who has ever climbed to the summit of Montreal's Mount Royal to stand with the spirit of Cartier, or walk the ramparts of Quebec City out on to the Plains of Abraham, cannot help but feel the lingering presence of history and belonging, regardless of your birth place or mother tongue. Is it not time now, to realize that we are no longer individuals, but an influential and strategic part of the world community; that we are not only a bilingual country but a multilingual country and have in our short history evolved into the greatest and most viable multicultural population anywhere in the world.

If the hand of God has spanned and blessed this land from sea to sea, can we not, in gratitude and thoughtfulness, reach out to one another in union and fellowship.

My wish for Canada for her people, that we may find a new warmth of belonging to each other regardless of our heritage.

My hope for Canada is inherent

"That I may see
while my children live,
my father's dream"

A look at the world armament situation

by Charles Plewman

Most people like to believe that another World War is unthinkable. Unbelievable as it may seem, it could happen. Some fool might press the button. More likely a conflict in the Middle East or Africa would drag us into it. Exploiting the 3rd World could do it also.

However, remote we may think a World War is, the fact remains that tens of millions of Chinese and Europeans are firmly convinced that it will happen. Nor are they sitting idly by. The City of Geneva has spent 300 million dollars on bomb-proof shelters and China untold millions. Meanwhile, the major nations while talking peace are busy re-arming.

The two nations that are striving for supremacy are the Soviet Union and the United States. The Soviets have gained more in military strength of recent years compared with the United States and far more in its influence and strength throughout the world. Detente has served the Soviets well for while talking of disarmament and peace, they have been working overtime strengthening their position throughout the world. Their boldness in Africa and the Middle East has astonished Washington and caused not a few people to feel that she is deserting her friends and conceding too much - Vietnam is still vivid in her memory. There is a real danger since the U.S. began retreating in world affairs that the Soviets may make the mistake of underestimating her. It is important the U.S. state its position clearly to avoid any such misunderstanding. Back of all this trouble is "fear". Roosevelt was dead right when he said, "the only thing we have to fear is fear itself." When fear takes over

- good judgement flies out of the window. I don't want to appear to be cynical, both sides say they want peace - while at the same time they are both working overtime getting ready for another war. The disarmament they talk about should more correctly be called re-armament.

Both sides have obsolete and outdated military hardware that they would like to sell in order to buy more efficient and up-to-date means of destruction. The cost of some of these new armaments is astronomical.

At the present time, each side has about 15 times of overkill. During the last World War, it took over 5 years to kill 36 million people. If we have a 3rd World War, around 100 million people would be wiped out during the first 24 hours. Both sides have about a total of 100 cities zeroed in on which could be destroyed at a moments notice.

The saying that Competition makes the world go around is wrong! It is true that we have come a long way since the childhood of the race, when it often was a case of eat or be eaten with only the fittest surviving. The fact that I am here to write about it speaks volumes for my great, great grandfather who must have been either stronger or faster on his feet than the other fellow.

Today, we are about halfway between a straight competitive society and one that is wholly co-operative. We are slowly but surely learning that what we hold in common is greater than that on which we disagree. We now have a United Nations, all kinds of trade associations, conventions, trade magazines, etc. where we try to help one another. International gatherings and conventions are the order of the day. Even Eatons and Simpsons are working together establishing plazas, etc.

Few people seem to realize that so long as we have a competitive society we are going to have war. You cannot have people and nations climbing over each others back to get what the other party wants without conflict. Please note that I am not talking about friendly rivalry. You can pass all the pious resolutions you like, if the root causes of war remain - they shall be of no avail.

Sometimes I wish that only intelligent persons under 45 years of age could become a National Leader. The older group has been taught so many things that are wrong that they would have great difficulty to unlearn them.

Moses was not permitted to enter the promised land because he belonged to the old order of things and didn't have what it takes in the new situation.

As a rule wars do not happen by accident - they are made by man and can and should be stopped by man.

Editor's Note:

Charles Plewman was Military Secretary for the Y.M.C.A. in Ottawa during part of World War I and Executive Secretary for the Toronto Red Cross in World War II. The views expressed are his own.

Our devotional period was held as usual on Friday morning. Capt. Barry of the Salvation Army was our spiritual leader. The theme was of the 23rd psalm and of the eventual sacrifice by Christ of everything including life, in return for which we are urged to give ourselves to Him. A Christian upbringing in the home will for the teenager, if carried through, provide more happiness than anything else. Our singing was nicely accompanied by Capt. Barry's accordion and Mr. Charles Plewman's mouth organ.

A power blackout gives us the shivers because as a class we seem to be most vulnerable, but when we hear of a huge city like New York having that experience, it makes one think. It was not only the dark, but there was the added terror of looting and the devastating fires the looters or other such criminals set that wrought great havoc. Besides, there could be no cooking or the preparing of meals, and there would be much food spoilage through lack of refrigeration. I greatly doubt if we will have anyone say "it can't happen here." However, great care is taken, at least with Ontario Hydro, that such an event will not occur. Even we have a contribution to make to help in making hydro an uninterrupted service by individually, like all residents of Ontario, practice conservation by turning off any unused lighting facility, tolerating a little less heat in our rooms, and be more reasonable in the amount of hot or warm water we use.

This area is in desperate need of rain, a matter that requires us to hose or sprinkle everything we are trying to grow. We are somewhat proud of what flowers we have, even though our efforts are rather amateurish. The boxes on the patio, and the flower beds are now beginning to show a pleasant mixture of color. Radish are still the only item from our garden ready to use, and it seems that it will be some time before anything else is mature.

Saturday we were glad to see Mrs. Jane Rosenberg, a going concern again when she brought her infant baby, David, and her eldest son, Michael, in to see us, and even maybe to show off a bit. They are two lovely children.

From the Chamber

BY BOB STINSON

The Chamber was extremely pleased to hear last week's announcement of a new industry for Haliburton County. We would like to join others in the community in welcoming Thaler Metal Industries Ltd. to our community, and offer our assistance wherever it may be required. Congratulations and thanks are certainly due to John Eakins, our MPP, and all those who worked with him to bring this industry here. It should be remembered that although it is the Municipality of Dysart that completed the successful negotiations, it is the County of Haliburton as a whole that gains substantially by this development.

Echos of Yesterday last week opened its doors on the Main Street of Haliburton. This very novel antique store is housed in the old Echo newspaper building, and appears to be right at home in these surroundings. Proprietors, Howard and Wendy Clyde have been summer residents with us, in the Ingoldsby area, for some years, and would like to become year-round residents if this venture is as successful as they hope it to be. Much of their considerable inventory has been purchased in Europe and was formerly sold mainly through shows. You don't have to be an antique buff to find this store very interesting, so do drop in and browse around and welcome Howard and Wendy to our community.

Patricia and LeRoy Lichty purchased the Brown Owl Restaurant at Minden some while back, but just this week joined us at the Chamber of Commerce and we would like to take this opportunity to welcome them to our community. The folks in the Minden area have already recognized the fact that there is good food and hospitality at this location by the considerable traffic that is apparent in their parking lot. Pat and LeRoy have come to us from Whitby, Ontario, and LeRoy is still employed in Oshawa but hopes to make Haliburton his full-time home in the very near future.

Last week we began some visits in a forgotten and neglected area of our county. Way up on Highway 60, between Dwight and Algonquin Park, there is a section of Haliburton County that most of us tend to forget belongs to us. There are about 15 small business operations in this area, most of whom already belong to the Muskoka Tourist Association and the Huntsville Chamber of Commerce. We hope that a number of these establishments will see fit to join our Chamber and that we can provide some benefit for them. The first of these businesses to join is Lakewoods Motor Court, owned and operated by Russ and Mary Kruger. They have not only clean, modern housekeeping cottages but an attractive, comfortable restaurant overlooking Oxtongue Lake. If you are travelling to the park we do hope you'll drop in to have a coffee, and tell them we suggested you say hello.

This week tends to start off a series of busy summer social activities in the Highlands with the Legion Carnival this Wednesday, the Wilberforce Country Good Times on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, and the Minden Rotary "Jubilee" Carnival Week starting next Tuesday. The Minden Carnival will be wound up on Saturday, July 30, with the 4th annual Canadian Blues and Jazz Festival which we highly recommend. You don't have to be a jazz or blues fan to really enjoy this festival, you simply have to be able to appreciate talent. Anyone who has ever attended in the past will bear out the fact that there is top-notch entertainment at this event for the young and old alike.

This week's Tourism "Horror Story" relates to the Honourable Claude Bennett, Minister of Industry and Tourism. When questioned by our MPP, John Eakins, about the current slump in tourism, Mr. Bennett replied that "we have a climatic condition in this province that is not at present as favourable an opportunity to tourists as another part of the continent" and also suggested that he thought we were holding our own last year. Since last year was far from satisfactory, it is certainly not adequate to hope to hold our own with last year.

The fact of the matter is that not only have we lost most of our American tourists, we are now losing Canadians to the same market. Tourism is our second largest industry, or at least has been, and if our Cabinet Minister responsible for this industry can take such an off-hand approach and view of its considerable decline, then we are indeed in trouble. There is no simple answer to this problem but it is certainly important that it be recognized as a problem and some solutions be sought and implemented immediately. One idea is being put forth by the Canadian Government Office of Tourism in the form of a Canadian Travel Information-Reservation system project. Most of you will have received a questionnaire recently in this regard and we do hope you will take time to fill it out and return it. In our view such a system may be very advantageous, particularly if organizations such as our Chamber could become part of the system.

Live and let live is fine, but live and help live better.

Builder insulation just can't do the job with today's high fuel costs

20 years ago almost all homes were insulated with 1-1/2" builder's batts. And things haven't changed much. The cold truth is that even a brand new house is probably not adequately insulated for today's high fuel costs. And to make matters worse, as time goes on old batts loosen & settle leaving uninsulated voids that let valuable heat escape.

Four day week of fun at Minden Rotary Carnival

A four-day week of fun and festivities, which will be highlighting Queen Elizabeth's Silver Jubilee, will be theme of this year's annual Rotary Summer Carnival.

To be held July 26-30, this year's Carnival will not only mark the Queen's Jubilee year but will also celebrate Rotary's 30th year of service to the community of Minden.

A fixture in Minden's summer scene for many, many years, the 1977 edition of the Minden Rotary Carnival promises to be the best ever held, ballooning from the regular two-day event of past years to a four-day extravaganza.

Kick off night is Tuesday, July 26, featuring a huge turkey bingo at the Minden Community Centre.

On Wednesday, Minden's Main Street will become a giant outdoor mall, highlighted by an afternoon bedrace through the streets of the village.

This entertaining event will be followed by the ever-popular S.F. Stinson Memorial Canoe Race, staged annually in conjunction with the Rotary Carnival.

This race is held to commemorate one of Minden's pioneers and courses the waters of Minden's scenic Gull River, finishing at the bridge in downtown Minden. They say many a man's honor has been at stake in this exciting test of human endurance, while many a maiden's hand has been won.

Immediately following the canoe race is one of the biggest small-town parades in Ontario. Beginning at one end of Minden's mile-long Main Street and ending at the Minden Community Centre the parade annually draws hundreds of participants and thousands of excited onlookers.

But this year's edition, honoring the Queen's Jubilee and Minden's Rotary's thirtieth anniversary, promises to be a gala, colorful affair with a multitude of floats, marching bands, balloons and good old-fashioned fun.

The night's festivities continue at the arena and community centre with the usual array of rides, games-of-chance, food booths, non-stop bingo and a crowd-pleasing beer garden featuring Rotary entertainment.

The same fare continues Thursday night with the famous Labatt's Balloon on display as well as the lucky draw for a free trip for two to Barbados.

Friday night offers a respite for Carnival goers for they may choose to patronize many of Minden's established entertainment spots and prepare for the big wind-up Saturday night at the Community Centre featuring the Fourth Annual Canadian Blues Jazz Festival.

This year's Festival stars singer Joe Williams, trumpeter Sam Noto and the Bernie Senesky Trio.

Although begun just four years ago, this music festival now attracts enthusiasts from across Canada and the United States.

For one night a year Minden becomes the New Orleans of the North, playing to standing room only crowds.

The Haliburton Guild of Fine Arts Show ended for another year. Organizers of the event were pleased with the turnout and offered thanks for those who attended and those who participated in the annual show. The show was held at the Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School.

Haliburton Highlights

BY CREIGHTON FEIR

The Haliburton Rotary Clubs Annual Summer Carnival will be two days this year, August 2nd and 3rd. Carnival chairman, Peter Curry, seems to have everything under control for this year's big event and the parade theme this year is Silver Jubilee.

Extensicare at Haliburton have sure made some great improvements to their grounds, plus they have added picnic tables with umbrellas, beautiful out-of-doors furniture, a smart new barbecue, and shuffleboard. They now have inside bowling but we wonder if an added addition would be a pool table where many of the men who are residents there could put in many hours shooting pool.

Mr. Don Dunsmore of Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, was a visitor to Haliburton last week.

Several citizens have come to us recently complaining of the weeds at the Rotary Beach in Haliburton. Another year a solution must be found for this situation. We also notice that some people are leaving papers strewn along the beach park which should be placed in the litter barrels. Since the Tennis Club is in charge of the courts it might be an idea if they would clean up the litter inside and outside the courts.

We wonder when the council are going to get around and clear up the weeds in the village. It should be done later on in the spring, not when the summer season is over.

We had a suggestion put before us this week that it might be a good idea to put dug-outs for the ball teams at the Haliburton Ball Park. The Ball Park is at present in excellent condition and these dug-outs would be an added attraction.

We were pleased to see our good friend, Jack Taggart, from Oshawa, on Saturday when he dropped into our office for a visit. We have known Jack for some time as he used to drive up from Toronto to repair our Intertype machine when we printed by letterpress in the old Echo office on the Main Street.

Well it's all aboard for Wilberforce this coming weekend when Wilberforce will be celebrating the Silver Jubilee at the Country Good Times. The big event will be staged on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 22, 23, 24. The weekend will feature games, prizes, shows, contests, helicopter rides, exhibits, giant midway, entertainment, beauty contest when the Jubilee Queen will be chosen, a teen dance and a Silver Jubilee Ball, costume displays and local crafts, beer garden, amateur contest, bake sale, nature films, horse draw. Last, but not least, is the big parade on Saturday, at 1:00 p.m., with bands, clown troupe, majorettes, floats. This is possibly one of the biggest parades held each year in Haliburton County. We have just mentioned a few of the big attractions and there's plenty more. It's this weekend for the Silver Jubilee at the Country Good Times in Wilberforce. Plan now to attend.

Calling all cottagers, vacationers and residents in the Haliburton, Minden, Norland, Cobocok, West Guilford and Eagle Lake area. Play golf at the beautiful new PineStone Golf Course on Highway 121, 4 miles west of Haliburton between Minden and Haliburton, at PineStone Inn. Visitors are welcome, pay as you play, electric carts, pull carts, rental clubs available.

A revival with Eddy Wayne (from the Cathedral of Tomorrow, Akron, Ohio) was held at the Allsaw Pentecostal Church on Sunday. Baptismal Service was held at 3 p.m. at the lake.

Now you can fly Air Haliburton flight training, government approved program, airborne sight-seeing, see your property from above, aircraft rental, licensed pilots, come fly with us. Air Charter service - get where you're going faster! It's all happening at Air Haliburton, Stanhope Municipal Airport, between Maple Lake and Green Lake, just a half mile north of Highway 530.

One of the highlights of this year's Annual Haliburton Rotary Carnival, which will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, August 2 and 3, will be a giant parade which will feature three bands. The Rotary Club are interested in having more kids decorate their bicycles and get them in this year's parade. They are offering cash prizes of $15.00, $10.00, $5.00. One of the featured bands in the parade will be the Ontario Provincial Police Pipe Band from Barrie.

Report from Queen's Park

BY MPP JOHN EAKINS

The Environment Minister has announced that Mr. Justice Patrick Hartt will begin his wide-ranging hearings on development in Northern Ontario. Judge Hartt is to be appointed a Royal Commissioner under a Cabinet Order-in-Council. Faced with almost inevitable defeat in the House over its refusal to ban sport fishing in the mercury-polluted English-Wabigoon river system, the government dropped the bill setting up an inquiry, which Liberals and NDP Members had indicated they intended to tie to a fishing ban of the polluted waterway.

It is understood that Judge Hartt will have almost the same wide terms of reference under the Public Inquiries Act as he would have had under the amended Environment Act.

The Government move left opposition parties with no effective method of forcing a ban on fishing in the English-Wabigoon river system. Both opposition leaders have indicated they will support the inquiry.

The Legislature has passed a bill to force construction of a French-language high school in Essex County, near Windsor. Debate on the issue, which was introduced in the final session of the last Legislature, and reintroduced after the election, lasted two days. Under the legislation, the Essex County Board of Education will have thirty days to select a site for the school and begin preparations for construction. The new high school could accommodate 600 students initially, and there are about 520 students now receiving French-language schooling in the area.

In Essex County, the school board has voted four times against building the school, while legislation provides that the province pay almost all of the $4.1 million cost. Some Members were concerned that the bill was an infringement of the basic principle of local autonomy.

The Minister of the Environment has stated that only a political compromise can save the Government's idea of an environmental tax on soft drink cans. Faced with opposition from both Liberals and NDP, the Government has delayed attempting to impose the tax for the second time in less than three months. The Ministry of the Environment will spend the summer discussing differences with opposition critics, trying to reach an accommodation with at least one of the parties to guarantee passage of the tax bill in the fall session of the Legislature.

As a first step, the Minister stated he was prepared to consider the Liberal alternative of a deposit, or a combination of deposit and tax. Alberta apparently has a five cent deposit on cans, of which two cents goes to the consumer returning the empties and three cents goes to the provincial government to help pay for a depot collection system. A system of such depots could cost about $25 million. Another alternative to be re-examined during the summer will be an outright ban on pop cans.

The Premier has stated that a retired judge conducted a secret inquiry into allegations of political influence in the award of multi-million dollar contracts by Ontario Hydro without taking evidence from witnesses under oath. He made this statement after the Speaker had ruled that discussion of the report should not be inhibited by a court order banning publication or broadcast of evidence taken at a preliminary inquiry into charges of a dredging conspiracy. Prior to the Speaker's ruling, the Premier and Cabinet Ministers had avoided answering questions about the inquiry conducted by Campbell Grant after his retirement as a judge of the Supreme Court of Ontario. Liberal Leader, Stuart Smith, expressed the opinion, outside the House, that the Premier had set a "very dangerous precedent" in commissioning the secret report. The proper way "would have been to go to the head of the (Ontario Provincial) Police and say 'Would you look into these charges.' " The contracts investigated by Mr. Grant were for work on the Madawaska River at Arnprior and at the Douglas Point Nuclear Generating Station on the Bruce Peninsula.

Answering a question from John Sweeney (Liberal - Kitchener-Wilmot), the Minister of Education admitted that the province is phasing out its regional education offices in St. Catharines, Kitchener and Kingston. The services provided at the three offices would be transferred to the nearest remaining office. By the end of the next March, the province hopes to reduce its staff in its regional offices by about 40 people, to 300. Six other regional offices will remain open. Liberals argued in the 1975 election campaign that all nine regional offices should be closed as a cost-saving measure.

The Legislature has recessed for the summer. In the coming weeks I shall be reporting to you about various government programmes, and legislation which has been passed, or will be debated when we reconvene in the fall.

See you next week.

The bank corner in Minden was a busy place on Saturday morning. The Anglican Church Women of St. Paul's Church held a sale of a number of items. Among the most popular items during the hot weather was the lemonade that was sold at the event.

TOWNSHIP OF GLAMORGAN

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

AT DECEMBER 31, 1976

To the Members of Council, Inhabitants and Ratepayers of the Corporation of the Township of Glamorgan.

We have examined the 1976 financial statements of the Township of Glamorgan and its local boards. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinions, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Township of Glamorgan and its local boards as at December 31, 1976 and the results of their operations for the year then ended, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted for Ontario municipalities applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

This and That

I am always looking for quick breads because my family loves them. Here are two that I tried recently and really enjoyed.

RAISING OATMEAL QUICK BREAD

1 cup flour
1 tspn. baking powder
1 tspn. soda
1 tspn. salt
1 cup whole wheat flour
1 cup rolled oats
1/4 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup molasses
1 1/4 cups buttermilk or sour milk
1 cup raisins

Heat oven to 350 degree F and grease a 9"x5" x 3" pan. Sift first lot of flour with baking powder, soda and salt into a mixing bowl. Add whole wheat flour, rolled oats, and sugar and blend with a fork. Add molasses and milk and blend until smooth. Stir in raisins.

Spoon into prepared pan and stand at room temperature for 20 minutes. Bake for about 50 minutes. Turn onto rack to cool. Serve thinly sliced with butter.

DATE AND CHEESE BREAD

3/4 cup boiling water
1 1/2 cups cut up dates
1 3/4 cups sifted flour
1 tspn. soda
1/4 tspn. salt
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 cup grated cheddar cheese
3/4 cup chopped nuts
1 egg beaten

Pour boiling water over dates and let stand until it is lukewarm. Sift flour, soda, salt and sugar into bowl. Add cheese and nuts and toss together. Add egg and dates with liquid and blend well. Place in a greased loaf pan. Bake at 350 F for 45 minutes.

60 foot dental coach

The Ministry of Health will be placing one of its new 60 foot Dental Coaches at the Wilberforce Public School in September.

Dr. & Mrs. W. Banting will be providing complete dental care to children pre-school to Grade 8 from Wilberforce, Gooderham and the Highland Grove areas during the period September to April.

It is 1970-71 since the last visit of the Dental Coach service to Wilberforce. However, with the recent expansion of this service by the Ministry of Health in acquiring 5 new coaches, this will be a breakthrough for dental health in underserved areas, allowing them to be reserved approximately every 3 years.

It is expected that this particular Coach will be responsible for providing dental services at 7 sites. Other locations to ultimately be visited in this District Health Unit area are Dorset (Dwight), and Kinmount (Burnt River).

Protect Yourself
Protect yourself by handling returnable bottles with care and thoughtfulness. It's not fair to anyone when refillable bottles are used as trash containers for cigarette butts, gum, broken glass, etc.
Bottlers are very conscious of sanitation and make careful inspections before refilling bottles; however, it does happen that a foreign object passes undetected. For this reason, take a glance at the bottle and its contents before removing the cap. Any suspected bottle should be returned to the store for refund or replacement. The store, in turn, will note the problem and report it to the supplier.

Bill SmileyAbout weddings

Weddings are for women. During the entire ritual, as practised in our society, men are inarticulate, inept, and in the way.

This was my conclusion after attending the recent wedding of a niece. Not that it wasn't a lovely wedding. It was. She's a grand and beautiful girl, Lynn Buell of Brockville, and with the aid of her young sister Pam, her remarkably calm mother, and her fairly distraught father, she came through the ceremony with flying colors.

She even "did fairly well for herself," as we used to say. She hooked a doctor. Well, at any rate, a medical student. All she has to do is support him for three or four years, and they'll be rolling in medicare.

He seems like a decent, in-offensive chap, like all the other males at the wedding. At least he had on a shirt and tie, and didn't want to get married in jeans and beads and a caftan, like so many young punks these days. He doesn't even have a beard, so he may be OK.

But he was practically unnoticed, there was such a craning of necks among the women, to see what and why each other was wearing.

Please don't get the idea that I'm down on weddings. I think they are fine, and I'll go down to the church on a nice summer day with the best of them, and get a prickling at the nape of my neck, and reach over and hold the old lady's hand when the parson intones, "for better and for worse, in sickness and in health, for richer and for poorer," and all that stuff that makes your hair stand on end with hind-sight.

And I don't mind the two or three hundred dollars it cost me to attend. Not at all. The last wedding I was at — my daughter's — cost five times that, and all I've got out of it is two grandbabies and the establishment of the Bill Smiley Benevolent Fund which caters to indigent daughters, their husbands, and any offspring they may have.

Nor did it bother me in the slightest that I had to drive 600 miles, round trip, to see my niece given away. There was a torrential rain all the way there, and heat and a hangover from a magnificent reception all the way home, but that goes with the territory.

What I did mind, just slightly, now, was the frenzy of preparation during the three weeks before the wedding.

Right from the beginning, I was aware that I was going to be stuck for a wedding dress, one of those creations that women can wear once and never again, unless they have some sense, which most women don't have, when it comes to a wedding.

However, I just shrugged this off. You can't take it with you, no matter what route you choose to go.

But little did I realize that my wife was going to do three things simultaneously: create her own costume for the wedding; lose 10 pounds; and get a tan. Just try it, ladies.

She is one of those people who don't know their own limitations, demand perfection, and drive everyone around them straight out of his skull.

Since she started sewing a year or so ago, she thinks she can tackle anything in the haute couture line. I granted that she could whip out a golf skirt or pair of smashing slacks in a day, and knock off T-shirts for the midgets in the family while the dishes were soaking, but I was leery about her tangling with a wedding dress.

First week was sheer hell. I told her to knock out a "little, white dress" for the wedding, and she came up with some old wives' tale that you can't wear white to a wedding — that's reserved for the bride.

In addition, the sun didn't shine for tanning, and the diet seemed a dead loss.

Second week was a repeat. But she did make a panic trip to the city to buy material, the sun shone for one day, and she lost a pound and a half.

Third week. The material she chose was raw Indian silk. Great stuff to work with. Look at it sideways and it resembles a newspaper that's been left out in the rain.

But the sun shone. She stole a half-hour a day from her 10-hour sewing stint for Area farm news and views

The awards for participants in the Victoria Dairy Herd Improvement Program were presented last week.

Alwyn English, R.R. 5, Lindsay, won the Master Feeds trophy for the herd on the supervised plan with the highest B.C.A. The Lindsay Co-op trophy for the owner-sampled herd with highest B.C.A. was won by Bill Moynes, R.R. 1, Lindsay.

Martin McGriskin, R.R. 1, Omeme, received the Kawartha Feed Mill plaque for the supervised herd with the most improved production. The most improved herd on the owner-sampled plan was that of Wayne Daniels, R.R. 4, Lindsay. Mr. Daniels receives the Schwartz Bros. Livestock trophy.

Certificates for the lowest calving intervals were presented to Bert Vandenburg of R.R. 2, Oakwood and Raymond Buckley, R.R. 3, Lindsay.

A committee was elected to work with Bob McLaren, the new D.H.I. Supervisor, in planning future activities for the Association members. Committee members are: Dave Darling, Alwyn English, Martin McGriskin, Mrs. Evelyn McLean, Bill Moynes, Bert Vandenburg and Ray VanSchaik.

The D.H.I. program is a milk production testing program conducted by the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

GRAIN & FEED STORAGE GRANTS

Recently the federal government announced a program of incentive grants to help Ontario farmers build permanent grain and feed storage structures and install sun-bathing. And suddenly the scales began to work, instead of sticking, as they had been for two weeks.

In the midst of it all, so wound up about weddings are women, she found time to dash out and buy me a pair of pants and a fine new white shirt. I was going to wear my old gray flannels that I bought three years ago for $18 and a clean golf shirt. The pants are a bit lumpy around the pockets from carrying keys, $6 in change, and golf balls, and the shirt has a cigarette burn in the collar, but otherwise there's time.

There was no way she was going to get me to buy a pair of black shoes, so she said I could wear my hush-puppies and she'd say I forgot my dress shoes.

Not only did she finish a real zappo of a skirt with a matching vest, but a polka-dot blouse to go under it. New shoes, of course, a tan, and — believe it or not — a brand new figure with almost 15 pounds vanished into thin air. She was a knock-out.

Why don't women put all this creativity and will! power into something besides a wedding?

ATTENTION: WELL, RIVER AND LAKE WATER USERS...

YOUR DRINKING WATER MAY BE UNSAFE.

The Ontario Government says: "Even without human intervention the water of a lake or stream is unavoidably exposed to contamination at any time. Surface runoff can pick up fertilizer and wash over animal droppings (or carcasses) on its way to the lake, and birds are not dainty in their habits."

"...lake water should not be used for drinking without prior treatment. Even if you test the water and find it free of bacteria, the results tell you only that the sample (you took) ... was pure."

THE SUPER STERASYL WATER PURIFIER GIVES CLEAN, PURE, SAFE DRINKING WATER FOR UNDER $70.

- Silver-impregnated ceramic cartridge traps and kills bacteria and filters other microscopic particles.
- Activated carbon removes most bad tastes and odours.

nice for him to have all his impressions to think over when he is sitting quietly at his home near Maple Lake in the shorter, darker days that fall and winter bring.

Mr. & Mrs. Victor McBrien and Mrs. W. Johnson made a business trip to Peterborough last week.

The Elmer Downs family and friends are enjoying their home on the south shore of the lake. I'm sure the Downs' men are appreciating the results of their labor there during last winter and spring.

St. Peter's A.C.W. showed up, nine in number, at the Hyland Crest Home last Thursday, to serve afternoon tea and visit with the residents there. We always enjoy our afternoon with these folk, especially since we know so many who live there. We always see new faces, but also miss seeing some we knew. This time we missed Mrs. Maud Boyce, but learned she is in hospital at present. Several of St. Peter's Church flock are there and all were visited personally. Also, all of them namely: Millie Henderson, Lizzie Harrison, Berta Dawson, Charlotte Cooper, Wilbert Sisson and Annie Fountain, sent greetings to the home area. They are very interested in the work being done at the church this summer.

Mr. & Mrs. Stan Barjarow and children, of Kingston, visited briefly with his brother Frank & Elaine last week.

Mrs. W. Johnson and Peggy had as weekend guests, Bill Johnson of Toronto, also Mr. & Mrs. Maurice Hughes of Peterborough.

We understand the Prentice Reunion was Sun., July 17, at the West Guilford Recreation Centre. Later in the afternoon all who cared to visit longer with relatives were invited to the Fred Prentices to carry on.

Mr. & Mrs. Reid MacDonald are spending the weekend at their cottage on the lake.

Shawn Patterson and Dick Stouffer, of The Carnarvon Farmers Market, stock shelves at the business that just opened recently. The store, which is located on Highway 35, is owned by Fred Park, formerly of Mississauga, and Doug Patterson, formerly of Rexdale.

WHY THERE IS ROOM FOR QUEBEC IN MY CANADA

There is room for Quebec in my Canada because Quebec has and always will be to me part of Canada, part of our country. If we lost Quebec we would be losing a major part of our heritage and our culture.

When you go to other parts of the world and people ask you where you are from I am proud to say Canada. Immediately they associate you as part of a bilingual country.

Quebec is one of our sister provinces and therefore belongs to our family. Canada's family. If we lose Quebec we are losing a very close and dear sister. I cannot imagine Canada without Quebec. French-Canadians add to our multi-cultural heritage. Quebec adds spice to Canada and is a very interesting place to visit and to live. I personally have never been to Quebec but can honestly say I am looking forward to visiting there.

I think Quebec has a lot of space in Canada and belongs with Canada. She is part of Cont'd. on page 18

4. Advanced Accounting, Auditing, Taxation.

The letters CGA after your name tell the story. Employers know that they identify an individual with sound knowledge, ability, drive and initiative. After all, The Certified General Accountants program is one of the toughest and most demanding of its kind.

Graduate CGAs are self-reliant, determined people with the ability to concentrate on a problem and take it through to solution. This ability is a direct result of the CGA program which allows you to learn while still earning a living in related employment.

CGA develops people who can be relied upon to work without the need of constant supervision. These are the people in demand for management teams. These are the people in line for top-level financial and accounting positions.

But competition for the best jobs is fierce; your resume has to come out on top.

If you are ambitious; if you want to realize your full potential; if you want to gain freedom of career choice, then contact The Certified General Accountants Association. Applications now being accepted for summer or fall course entry.

Gems of Truth

Jacob's Well versus The Upspringing Fountain:

John 4: 6-14

When the Lord Jesus sought out the opportunity to deal with the woman from Samaria, He left a clear message about Jacob's well and the well of water springing up into everlasting life.

Jacob's well stands for the "Law" of the old order with its laborious ceremonial and legal system of personal merit by obedience. The water in the well was good, but the well was "deep". V. 11.

Every drop gained from that well cost effort. Bucket by bucket, a little at a time, that was the law of the well at its very best. But Jacob's well had come to stand for mere tradition in religion. It was intolerant of anything new. "Art thou greater than our father Jacob?" was the woman's answer to Him who was speaking of the upspringing water. As a matter of fact, Jacob was the father of the Samaritans in no real way. The Samaritans were a hybrid race, outside of real Judaism. Jesus was careful to set that fact straight. "Ye worship ye know not what; we know what we worship; for salvation is of the Jews." V. 22.

In a spiritual sense, the Samaritans drawing water from Jacob's well were precisely in the position of modern Gentile believers who put themselves under the Law; believing that as Christians, the Law is their rule of life. That is the very error against which the "Spirit" by Paul wrote the Epistle to the Galatians.

The upspringing fountain is, first of all, the Holy Spirit Himself, indwelling the true believer in Christ. Then, the fruit of the spirit is produced which is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance. Gal. 2: 22-23. That fruit spells Christian character. Under the Law, character is sought to be formed by habits of obedience to a rule of life, "thou shalt, and thou shalt not." The formula actually is "Our choices make our habits and our habits form our characters." That is what drawing water from Jacob's well stands for. It is the "other" Gospel of which Paul speaks of in his Galatian Epistle. It is Samaritanism, that is, neither pure Judaism nor pure Christianity, it is a mixture of Law and Grace.

True Christianity is not a kind of pump in Jacob's well, helping us to draw life out of the Law. Rather it is the Spirit of life and the life of the Spirit implanted in the believing one, overflows from the believer himself. Jesus said, "the water that I shall give shall be in him a fountain of water, springing up into everlasting life." V. 14.

The contrast between Jacob's well and the upspringing fountain is exemplified in contrast between the 7th and 8th chapter of Romans in the New Testament. In the former, a believer is in agony of effort to do something under the law of merit. In the latter, a believer is, by the "Spirits" undwelling, made "free from Law" and so finds that the righteousness of the Law is fulfilled not "by" but "in" him as he walks in the Spirit. Romans 8:2-4.

In the Epistle to the Ephesians the first three chapters are taken up with the exalted position a born-again child of God is brought into by grace through faith. The walk of that one is characterized by controlled expressions of daily living as he lives for his Lord who saved him. The test given to such a one is to "walk worthy" of the vocation where with ye are called. Eph. 4:1-3.

The changed Christian experience from the average one of painfully drawing blessings out of Jacob's well, to the triumphant one of bearing the fruit of the Spirit, is effected by two acts, one of faith, and one of the will. The act of faith takes deep note that the Holy Spirit does dwell within the believing one. 1 Cor. 6:19. The act of the will is just to live in constant yieldedness to the undwelling Spirit. He is that "well of water" that Jesus spoke of in lifting the Samaritan woman to higher ground. It is quite significant that she left her waterpot at the well when "truth" dawned on her darkened soul. Which well are you drinking at?

Canada from page 17 Canada as well as a leaf is part of a tree. There is plenty of room on a tree for leaves as there is for Quebec in Canada. Quebec belongs and is part of Canada.

Quebec may have disagreements with Canada but it is like a family quarrel where the results are they get back together again. I hope that Canada will remain united as one because there is a very loving and dear respect in our country for Quebec and I doubt that it will ever leave. If Quebec should choose to separate I think it would be as drastic a blow to Canada as it would be for Quebec.

Quebec is part of a whole which makes up Canada. Canada cannot function properly without her. Losing a part of a whole would leave a space that would never be complete without her. Therefore because of this, I feel that Quebec belongs, has and always will have space in Canada.

The Word of God

BY BRIAN V. SULLIVAN

The death of Jesus was not some last minute detour in God's plan or purpose. In fact, if we look closely at the scriptures we can readily see that from the Old Testament prophets right through the Gospel record His death had been pointed to. We have established in previous studies in this paper that Jesus was well acquainted with the impending nature of his death. In somewhat vague terms at first he introduced the thought to the apostles (disciples if you wish), and then little by little added clearer and more detailed information. Why was it needful for Jesus to die on the cross?

First, we must very clearly state that it was God's Eternal Purpose or Plan. This is hinted at in Acts 2:22-23, which reads: "Ye men of Israel, hear these words; Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you by miracles and wonders and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye yourselves also know: Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain: The same thing is set forth in Ephesians Chapter One, where our salvation is attributed to the wonderful redemption and grace made possible by the death of Christ, according to God's eternal purpose.

Second, and dependent upon the first point just presented, is the need for salvation from sin on our behalf. Man could not be saved without the death of the Son of God. If he could have been, then Jesus would not have needed to die. The Hebrew writer declared: "...but now once in the end of the world hath he appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself." (Hebrews 9:26). Third, death was required in order to bring into being the greatest proof of the Sonship of Jesus Christ, his resurrection from the dead. In Romans 1:4, Paul presents this truth: "And declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead: Many had previously died, but here was one who not only died but was raised to live. The apostle Peter in Acts 2 expands on this wonderful fact.

What does all this mean for you and I? Well, that depends on what we do in relationship to those facts. God cannot and will not save those who do not respond to His plan of salvation. After having convicted the Jews that they had crucified the very Son of God, Peter replied to their plea for help by saying: "Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost. For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call." (Acts 2:38-39). Yes, the promise is unto you, you can enjoy the wonderful gift of salvation, if you will only step out and obey those instructions from the lips of the inspired Apostle Peter. Have you done that yet?

CONTEMPORARY HOME FOR FAMILY LIVING Plan No. 576-1505

Three bedroom family home with room for future expansion, a recreation room, bathroom, and utility, in the roughed in basement. The two-car carport can easily be enclosed, in colder climates, without too great a structural change or cost.

At the front entrance foyer is a guest coat-closet and twin staircases down to the basement and up to the bedroom wing.

On the upper level, to the rear of the building, is the dining room with open balustrade over looking the living room, but a few short steps to the kitchen. The "U" shaped kitchen, is complete with all conveniences and has an eating counter and pass-through on the family room side.

The comfortable family room opens directly to a rear-deck and has a stairway down at the side of the house. Another convenience to this family area is the three piece bath located centrally between the bedrooms and family room.

Luxury and utility are main features of the master bedroom. A large walk-in wardrobe and a three piece shower en suite. The two smaller bedrooms use the twin vanity, full bath, that also doubles as a guest powder room.

Isolated from the bedroom wing the living room is ideal for large parties, which if required can extend to the back patio in the summer through sliding glass doors. During the winter months there is a snug wood-burning fireplace to create a cozy atmosphere.

Plan for design No. 576-1505 may be obtained at a cost of $60 for the first set and $9 for each additional set, plus $3.50 for postage and handling. B.C. Residents please include 7% sales tax.
